

Switch contacts on the schematic show the 'normal' connections.
That is: switch physically up.
This applies to all switches.

